DECA Day at SeaWorld

SeaWorld Opening Session

November 17, 2007 is DECA Day at SeaWorld, San Antonio. Your conference registration allows you to enjoy the world's largest marine life adventure park and family entertainment showplace, including a splashy lineup of more than 26 sensational shows, thrilling rides and animal attractions. End your adventure with the SRLC Opening Session right there at SeaWorld at 6:00 p.m.

Josh Sundquist: Not Your Average Key Note Speaker

Josh Sundquist's refreshing blend of energy and humor will inspire DECA members to stretch to their full potential. Josh shares stories about losing his leg to cancer, ski racing in the Paralympics, and playing practical jokes with his artificial leg to give practical motivation for overcoming adversity and goal setting.

Learn How To Win Competitive Events

Competitive Event Training

DECA presents its most comprehensive competitive events training program ever. Participants will learn from a panel of entrepreneurs in each of the career cluster areas; hear tips from an advisor of award-winning teams; see a competitive event demonstration followed by an evaluation and analysis; discuss the judges' grading form and know exactly what they are looking for. This is where competitors get their winning edge!

Leadership Training

FOCUS Training

FOCUS Training brings its experiential Leadership Development Academy program to the conference. FOCUS trainers will share their extensive DECA experience and knowledge of teamwork, effective communication, vision development, and professionalism. Attendees learn essential chapter management skills, network with leaders from across DECA's associations and have a great time! The LDA is a thrilling educational experience open to any DECA member who wants to hone his/her abilities as a leader.

Free T-Shirt When You Register

SRLC T-Shirt

As part of the SRLC registration, participants will receive the official conference T-shirt (logo on the right). Show your DECA spirit by wearing the T-shirt to DECA Day at Sea World!
