CASE STUDY SITUATION

You are event managers at Capitol Event Center, the new venue for Capitol Area Dog Extravaganza, an event for dog owners and dog enthusiasts. The event is held over a weekend in the summer and features a dog-friendly trade show featuring retailers and organizations that tend to the needs of pet owners, a dog parade, an obstacle course for dogs and a dog show.

Capitol Area Dog Extravaganza (CADE) was previously located in another city for ten years, but with continued decline in registration, the event has been moved to your city. While the event registration, fees and contracts are managed by CADE organizers, the daily operations and event management has been delegated to your team. Registration reports show that 250 dogs and 500 dog owners will be attending. The general public has been invited to attend the pet parade on Saturday afternoon. There is available seating for a maximum of 3,000 people in the hall.

Most out-of-town attendees will arrive on Friday night. There will be an informal meet and greet at the local dog park on Friday night. CADE officially begins on Saturday morning at the Capitol Event Center. After a brief opening session, attendees and their pets are able to roam the trade show, located in the Capitol Event Center exhibit hall. Over 100 vendors will be attending the trade show to advertise products and services.

On Saturday afternoon, the obstacle course will be open for dogs and their owners to demonstrate their dogs’ skills and agility. The obstacle course will be constructed in the large atrium lobby space at the front of the Capitol Event Center. After the obstacle course demonstrations, dogs and their owners will parade across the stage where the opening session took place. Volunteer judges from the community will be on hand to rate the dogs on a variety of informal categories: smallest, largest, longest tail, unique coloring, friendliest and best behaved.

On Sunday morning, the trade show is again open for attendees to visit. At noon, the closing session and awards ceremony will take place. Afterwards, the event concludes.

The event will rely on over 200 volunteers from the community. The volunteers have all passed a criminal background check and attended a mandatory training session. The volunteers will be working in shifts throughout the weekend event.

YOUR CHALLENGE

You will be meeting with a member or members of your team that will be assisting with CADE. In this planning meeting, you will need to discuss the following:

• Potential security and safety issues at the informal meet and greet at the dog park
• Potential security and safety issues at the opening session, tradeshow and obstacle course
• Potential security and safety issues during the pet parade
• Procedures for handling accidents during CADE
• Additional needs for attendees of CADE
• Ideas for making CADE the best possible event for organizers and attendees
