CASE STUDY SITUATION

You are the assistant director of tourism development for your state/province. The office of tourism development is committed to promoting all of the destinations within the state/province that appeal to travelers, especially those living outside of the state/province.

Your state/province is very diverse in its offerings to tourists. The state/province is most well-known for the beautiful mountain range that offers tourists many options for hiking, climbing and picturesque stays in cabins or campgrounds. The state/province also offers many rafting tours, chartered fishing tours, historic landmarks, summer festivals, fall foliage tours, wineries and quaint small town Main Streets.

While your state’s/province’s tourist offerings are plentiful, they are not all located in the same region. A tourist may have to drive 30 miles from a mountain hike to attend a winery, or drive 15 miles from a cabin in the woods to attend a summer festival. The drive is promised to be scenic and beautiful, but many times it does not occur to travelers to venture miles away from home base to explore.

A recent tourism report showed that the national average for tourists’ length of stay is four nights. The average for tourists’ length of stay in your state/province is two nights.

YOUR CHALLENGE

The director of tourism development wants you to create a promotional plan for the state/province that will encourage visitors to stay longer than two nights. The director wants you to determine:

- Methods to market the entire state/province as a desirable destination
- How tourists can be encouraged to venture away from home base
- Specific ideas to increase length of stay from 2 nights to 4 nights
- How industry partners can assist with marketing

You will present your promotion and recommendations to the director of tourism development in a meeting to take place in the director’s office. The director may be accompanied by additional executives from the state/province.

You will receive 2-3 questions from the judge pertaining to the case situation.
